

ARCHITECTURE

March 26, 2009

Recycled Water-Bottle Lampshade by Sarah Turner

by Jill Fehrenbacher

Turner's beautiful ReDesign lighting collection imaginatively recycles plastic water bottles into stunning lampshades. With some clever cutting Sarah Turner has mastered the art of turning waste drinks bottles into decorative shapes, which form the basis of her beautiful ceiling, table and floor lamps. This and other creative design objects made from recycled materials are currently being exhibited in a competition at the Ideal Home Show London. The ReDesign Lamp shades are competing against 25 other designs for the title of Concept Product of the Year, so if you like this innovative example of 'reclaimed design' show Sarah your support and vote for her here: <http://www.idealhomedesign.co.uk/ideas/innovation-nation/concept-products-2009-vote/>

+ Sarah Turner ReDesign Lampshades

GET INHABITAT EMAIL

Subscribe me!

- Inhabitat RSS Feed
- Follow us on Twitter
- Add us on Facebook
- Follow us on Flickr

READ INHABITAT

- ARCHITECTURE >
- INTERIORS >
- FURNITURE >
- PRODUCTS >
- GADGETS >
- FASHION >
- GRAPHICS >
- TRANSPORTATION >
- ENERGY >

SEARCH CATEGORIES

Browse By Category

Browse By Date

- TOP 10 PREFABS >
- TREEHOUSES >
- HOW-TOS >
- INTERVIEWS >

SIGN UP FOR DAILY INHABITAT EMAILS!

Enter your Email

2009 YARIS

ROLLOVER TO Discover more

Options Shown
© 2009, Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., Inc.

INHABITAT PHOTO GALLERIES

INHABITAT CALENDAR

< march >

M	T	W	T	F	S	S
9	10	11	12
	17
	24			27	28
						EO

events

- 22/2009: aioni 2009
- 23/2009: objectEarth Day
- 1/2009: CLYN Designs